this book of criticism brings both theatre and film studies within a single theoretical framework

but in the musical drama reality begins to blur the musical forms lose their excessively neat patterns and doubt and ambiguity undermine characters and situations reflecting the crisis of character typical of modernity indeed much of the interest and originality of verdi s operas lie in his adherence to both these contradictory systems allowing the composer dramatist to be simultaneously classical and modern traditionalist and innovator balancing practical exercises and case studies this book equips practitioners students and academics with guidance for exploring the process of making theatre from personal stories inviting you to consider the ethical challenges and rewards of this specialized area of theatre making this book contextualizes the authors original approaches within the range of existing applied theatre practice it draws on the authors practice and research in prisons with military veterans and families older adults people living with dementia intergenerational community groups and end of life care settings offering guiding principles for practitioners undertaking work in this field and sharing techniques and exercises to help develop your style and approach it also features handy hints and pitfalls to consider while working with someone s most precious commodity their life story featuring both the authors and participants perspectives the book explores concepts such as collaborative editing and co creation ownership and accountability ethics and boundaries and rolling consent alongside a growing interest in using personal stories in applied theatre it argues that there is increasing evidence for the role of the arts in the promotion of health prevention of ill health and management and treatment of illness in light of the steady increase in a diverse range of arts practitioners embracing narrative practice this book is an accessible practitioner level text on the subject drama for life university of the witwatersrand aims to enhance the capacity of young people theatre practitioners and their communities to take responsibility for the quality of their lives in the context of hiv and aids in africa we achieve this through participatory and experiential drama and theatre that is appropriate to current social realities but draws on the rich indigenous knowledge of african communities collected here is a representative set
