in the name of academic freedom the core values of higher education honest scholarship unbiased research and diversity of thought and person have been corrupted by an academy more interested in preserving its privileges than in protecting its own integrity the american university has lost its civility nowhere is this loss more apparent than in the rise of anti semitism and anti israelism on college campuses this book documents the alarming rise in bigotry and bullying in the academy using a range of evidence from first hand accounts of intimidation of students by anti israel professors to anti semitic articles in student newspapers and marginalization of pro israel scholars the uncivil university exposes the unspoken world of double standards bureaucratic paralysis and abdication of leadership that not only allows but often supports a vocal minority of extremists on campus jewish studies has been a vibrant academic discipline for many decades and since the establishment of the association for israel studies in 1985 to engage in research on the history politics society and culture of the modern state of israel the two disciplines have worked along parallel tracks in universities this book focuses on the vibrant academic field of israel studies and its complex and dynamic relations and intersections with its older sibling jewish studies scholarly contributions from around the globe illustrate that the ongoing and growing interest in israel studies in particular since the early 2000s must be analyzed and understood in its relationship to jewish studies only this will allow scholarship to reflect on not only the intersections between the two fields but also on the prospects of cross pollination between the disciplines for research and teaching this will become ever more vital in an increasingly globalized world with shifting concepts borders and identity concepts the book using a small group of left wing student activists as a prism explores the complex politics that underpinned the making of nation states in singapore and malaysia after world war two while most works have viewed the period in terms of political contestation groups the book demonstrates how it is better understood as involving a shared modernist project framed by british planned decolonization this pursuit of nationalist modernity was characterized by an optimism to replace the colonial system with a new state and mobilize the people into a new relationship with the state according them new responsibilities as well as new rights this book based on student writings official documents and oral history interviews brings to life various modernist strands liberal democratic ethnic communal and fabian and marxist socialist seeking to determine the form of postcolonial malaya it uncovers a hitherto little seen world where the meanings of loud slogans were fluid vague and deeply contested this world also comprised as much convergence between the groups as conflict including collaboration between the socialist club and other political and student groups which were once its rivals while its main ally eventually became its nemesis
